

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

Methods and compositions are disclosed for modulating the immune system of animals. Applicant has identified that oral administration of immunoglobulins purified from animal serum can modulate serum IgG levels for treatment of autoimmune disorders, potentiation of vaccination protocols, and improvement of overall health and weight gain in animals, including humans.